General Williams Recommends Major General Expected to Assame Command of the Department of Missouri About November—Randall Retires.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Oct, 2.—Major General John
C. Bates, Chief of Staff, to-day recommended that Major General John Weston, how on duty at the War Department, he transferred to St. Louis to succeed General George M. Randall as General commanding the Perpartment of Missouri. The order to this effect will soon be issued by the President the President. General Randall was retired to-day under the age limit and will make his home on the Pacific Coast, where his family resides. With the retirement of General Randall, General Weston was promoted from Brigadier to Major General, and the steps taken which will assure him the command of a department.

General Weston expects to go to St. General Weston expects to go to St. General Weston expects to go to St. Louis about November 1. As he has four years of active service remaining, it is entirely probable that he will remain in St. Louis the greater part of the time. The assignment is a desirable one, and it is not likely that he will wish to make a change. General Weston was born in 186 and began active service when 18 years old. On November 3, 1861, he received his commission as First Lieutenant in the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry Volunteers. He was made a Capitain two years later at 18 Fourth Kentucky Cavalry Volunteers. He was made a Captain two years later at 18 and a Major one year later at 19. He was mustered out on August 21, 185. He was appointed in the permanent establishment, Second Lieutenant, Seventh Cavalry, in 185. and rose to Flist Lieutenant in 1854, to Captain in 1855, to Major in 1892 and to Lieutenant Colonel in 1897.

He served as Brigadler General of Volunteers during the Spanish-American War and was made Brigadler General in the regular service in 1896.
